WHERE IS THE TRUE HOME OF THE HAMBURGER?

The kind of beef we see in hamburgers, minces beef, was possibly invented by Mongolians over 800 years ago. But who first put the beef in between pieces of bread, and called it a hamburger?

Three different cities in the United States all say that they were the first to invent America's favourite food. Some people say that Fletcher Davis, from Athens, Texas, invented hamburgers. 'Old Dave', as people called him, was selling minced beef sandwiches in his lunch bar as early as the 1880s. Some years later, they say that a group of Germans called his sandwich a 'hamburger' because people from the German city of Hamburg ate this kind of beef.

Other people believe that the hamburger came from a different city called Hamburg - the 1885 fair in Hamburg, New York. The Menches brothers were selling pork sandwiches, but when there was no more pork, they used minced beef and gave it a new name, the 'hamburger'.

The third possible inventor of the hamburger was Charlie Nagreen, also known as 'Hamburger Charlie', from Seymour, Wisconsin. He said that in 1885 he invented the world's first hamburgers at a fair. Seymour now celebrates the invention of the hamburger every year. In 1989, it was the home of the world's largest ever burger - over 2,500 kg!
